Our Public Schools.

The closing examinations and exercises in the Public Schools of our city, last week, at- Ruris King tracted much more notice and were far more generally attended by parents and others, interested in the Schools, than on any previous like occasion. This was partly due to the pales taken by the city press to call public attention consequently there was a necessary sacrifice of some begginge and other property.

The Colonel lost two officers and five men killed, and fourteen wounded. He also lost his year. On Friday the last day of the term large. to the metter, but still more to the awakened year. On Friday, the last day of the term, large numbers of visitors were present at the various exercises. In the Seventh Ward High School, so great was the throng, that the pupils had all to give up their seats to visitors and disperse themselves about the building, waiting for their turn to be called on for Composition, Declamation &c. It is to the influence of this Seventh Ward School, that we may attribute a good share of the improvement in the other Schools of the City. The School House is the largest and handsomest yet built; the rooms are all testofully and conveniently furnished; an air of nearness pervades the entire interior; very liberal and other apparatus for the use of the Schoole; and a large corps of able and experienced teaci. ers has been employed throughout the term, to give instruction to the four hundred children who have attended the daily ecssion.

From the very opening, it has stood bigh in favor, both of pupils and parents, and, we think, deservedly so; and has drawn within its walls been entered by Mrs. S. it was found to be lock-ed. The door was immediately forced open, and Mrs. S. was found lying in the water, but when rescued, life was extinct. The water in the bath being only some four and a half feet deep, how she could have been drowned under all the circumstances is very remarkable. The decasewas not exactly a proper place for them, have res to mourn ber loss.

N time should be lost in finishing and furnishing this building, so as to open it for the reception of pupils at the commencement of the September term.

The additional accommodations are greatly needed; all the present School Houses being over full. We hope that the Alderman, Councillors and School Commissioners of the Second, will drive matters right along till they get their School House completed. The City can better afford to be extravagant in this department, than in any other. Better economize in every thing else, than stint our Public Schools one dollar that is needed to make them comfortable attractive, of ample size, and thoroughly efficient.

The Courier of this morning publishes the following statement from Mr. A. Richarde, mate of the ship Alice Monroe. The A. M. experienced almost constant southerly gales, and was forced to take a much more portherly course, then the atherity rould have done. than she otherwise would have done. On the morning of the 27th, about 8 o'clock

Mr. Field and the Lieuterant desired Capt. Coll and examine them, and get samples of work and circular. These machines embroider, kem gather, &c., States, and wrote one or two letters on board the Alics Mouroe, during the hour or more they re-States, and wrote one or two letters on board the Alics Monros, during the hour or more they re mained on board of her. They also communicated to Capt. Cummings and Mr. Richards a statement of their doings for the past fortnight. They stated that both vessels, the Nagara and Agamemon, experienced the most violent coutherly gales from the day they left Plymouth, and were driven as the day they left Plymouth, and were driven as far north as lat. 54, much higher than the readerwors, thus delaying their operations for several days. The Niagara behaved in all respects, like a thorough ses going vessel, and was none the worse for the storms.

The Agamemon, on the contrary, suffered severely. At one time, her commander informed the first officer that he had no hopes of saving his vessel to me her bound on the contrary.

his vessel two hours longer, so great was her straining; but the storm subsided at last, and the Agamemnon rode out the gale.

A most unfortunate accident, however, occur red on board, caused by the breaking loose of he cone which held the cable in its position or the gun deck. The cable got adrift, and was pitched about the deck, undoubtedly much to its damage. Two hundred tons of coal also got adrift on the same deck, and caused infinite trouble.

Two seamen were injured by the accidents, one having an arm and the other a leg broken. The two vessels and their tenders finally arrived on the ground, and on the morning of the 26th a connection was effected, the weather being then sufficiently calm; the paying out of the ca-ble had scarcely commenced before the wire enapped. After a few hours detention, another splice was made, and the steamers started, the Agamemnon and her consort for Ireland and the Nagara and her companion for the American coast. Signals were kept up between the two fleets constantly, a measage being transmitted every 15 minutes, and all was going on well till about 140 miles had been paid out, when the electricians on board the Niagara discovered that the current was broken. bat the current was broken.

This was at half pest 12 A. M. The Niagara was immediately put about, and had already reached the mid-ocean rendezrous, where at 8 o'clock she was first seen by the Alice Monroe. It was believed on board of the Niagara that the cause of the second break was a kink in the Agamennon, caused by its disarrangement in the gale. But of this there is no certainty.—Nothing was said to Mr. Richards about the working of the new brakes: monabily there had working of the new brakes; probably there had been no occasion to put them into action. The Alice Monroe parted from the Ningara shortly after moon of the 27th, and lost sight of her about 4 o'clock. The Agamemon had not then come in sight. The Niagara had hoped that her consort would arrive in season to make another trial, but as the weather was loggy, though calm, it is hardly probable that anything was done on the 27th. Two days subsequently the weather was quite calm and favorable, but after that there was another succession of south-erly gales, and the weather on the banks, as ex-perienced by the Alice Monros, was exceedingly rough.

The Wenther at St. Johns. St. Johns, N. B., July 17.
The weather is fine and quite warm; not unfavorable to the telegraphic fleet; wind west.

Boscon, July 17.

A FEW WORDS in their place may not be in-appropriate in regard to ophthalmic medicine and surgery, with on account of the great prevalence of oph tha mio descreen in the United States, and the general misapprehension as reparted their nature and trea tares by the world at large, and (t am free to confess) by the tha min diseases in the United States, and the general misapprehenion as reparks their nature and trea them by the world at large, and (I am free to confest) by the medical profession governity. I refer to the idea which is entertained by a many, into a routine treatm aniconsisting of some crusian eye water or oliment. "Is good for sore oper;" thes making no distunction between the infinite varieties of ephthel-mic diseases. For the information of such parsons it perhaps would be well to stat, that over 276 different affective of the set and its aniconders are suppressed for books different nature, and requiring different measures for their allewisding or cauce, As to the importance of the subject it will be hardly necessary to enlarge upon a question which takes the form of a self evident fact.

Every one feels that fight is the most valuable of the renses, that is, the most important inde of knowledge, the most valuable means of communication with surrounding persons and objects, and that it is also essential to the iuil ecopyment of our other sensed, se that these lose more than half their value when sight is gone.

Hence blindness is one of the greatest calamities 'hat can beful human mature about of dusth, and some perhaps would prefer the termination of existence to its contiaus on in the solviery and dependants after to when life is reduced by the privation of of this precious sense.

Loss of sight is the greatest mistorium even to the rich who can attivities it by purchasing tha ald and services of others. How much more severely must it be tar be the more be the middle and lower of vense of for-rich who can atsviate it by surchaning the aid and services of others. How much more severely must it be felt by the poor, by the widdle and lower of a readerly, that is by the great mylicity of maskind, who being readered incapable of labor and having their minds uncultiwated, find their existance reduced to a dreary, blank, dark, selliary and obseriers burdensome so themselves and those around them.

Even the pet Militon, who might have been supposed to have some dever alteriation and resource that such an affliction admits of in his bighty gifted mind and the exhiustiess stores of knowledge with which it was furnished, repeatedly reverse to his blindness, and always in a to e of anguish and dependency, observations of recent misfortupe.

course which he took, he was acting from a sense of duty, and governed by his honest convictions. But the News here, in its remarks upon the same subject, has imputed the most Governor's action and side" in this matter, is alike untrue and absurd.

THE CAMPAIGN IN INDIANA.—The Hon. JOHN G. Davis has announced himself as an Indepeudent Anti-Lecompton Democratic Candidate in the Seventh Congressional District, Indiana .--The bogus Democrate, who, in Convention, nominated Mr. Sacaier, refused to endoise the course of Mr. Davis in Congress, and the latter has very wisely concluded to appeal to the people. We hope the Republicans of the District will cor-dially unite with the Auti-Lecompton Democrats in support of Mr. Davis. He deserves to be elected by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Davis is proscribed by the "regular," o "National Demogracy," for the sole offence of voting against the twin Lecompton and English villainies. It seems that the party there have not yet been officially apprised of the fact, announ-until the slave oligarchy is utterly overcome.

The St. Louis Democrat is confident that Mr. Blazz, the candidate of the Free Democracy, will be elected to Congress by a triumphant majority. He is bitterly opposed by the Know Nothings and National Democrats.

Furning from Buchanan.

The Standard of this city has been classed with the Buchanan organs, since it has been under the control of its present proprietor. Like the Milwauke Nus, however, rince the postofice question was decided, it shows symptoms of going over to Bouglasiam. In the last number there is a "favorable allusion" to Douglas, which we presume is but preparetory to a still further and attemptor endorsement of the "little wint."

The contract for building the Codar Valley Road was to have been let last week, but we have not learned who was the successful bidand stronger endorsement of the "little giant." Janesvile Standard.

If the Standard, like the News, deserte Bucmayas, the Administration will be reduced to the Stevens Point Pinery and one or two minor organe. A year ago, Administration papers were quite plenty in our State, but one by ones they have gone over to the Douglas side.

RIGHT AGAIN.—We have to congratulate the dilwaukee Daily News. It is having some anti-Lecompton articles now-a days that "take the shine" off from everything that we have written there is have to have the shine. The shine is have to have the shine to the shine with the shine is the shine in the shine is the shine is the shine in the shine is the shine is the shine is the shine is the shine in the shine is shine" off from everything that we have written for six months past. The News is being very generally congratulated upon its last change of front, especially by "original" Anti-Lecompton papers among the Democratic press. They seem to take a malecious pleast re in poking fun at our "rotary"

We would be be obliged if the Sentinel, when alluding to our floridness of composition, would anuling to our normness of composition, wone quote us correctly. We never wrote about the sublime solidity resting on an easy simplicity of the new custom house at Milwaukee. We wrote, "its elegant proportions seem to repose on an easy simplicity."

PLEASART NEIGHBORS.—The News and Wisconsinuallect to be concerned as to the standing of the Sentiall with "the honest people of the State." It will therefore, no doubt, be a source of sincers gratification to our amiable contemporaries to learn that the Sentinel stands very well, thank you, with the aforesaid honest people, as we have substantial and satisfactory reasons for keewing.

LITERARY INTELLIGENCE,-T'ue New York Post says "that Mr. Wm. Allen Butler, author of the famously popular posm of 'Nothing to Wear,' has a new poem in the press of D. Appleton & Co., to be published on the lat day of August next, It consists of about 1600 lines, and will " usks a volume of 94 pages. The subject ", the poem has not transpired, but whater it be, it will be waited for by the public with impatience. We do not know of any other American poem of as great length as 'Nothing to Wear' that was so speedily and universally copied and read!"

This has shortened the distance of staging to La Crosse to 2s milet—a small item in the traveling eye, and will roon be the only route from east to west.—A few days more and the cars will reach Salem, fourteen miles from the river, and a mouth more will find the Iron Horse bowing his proud neck over the banks of the Mis-is-ippi. The Potato Rot-lin Gause and Cure-ofr, Henderson's Discoveries. Ever since the discuss known as potato to:, first appeared, various hypothesis have been of ered as to its cause and cure. A malady attack ing an excelent so important, and forming so large a portion of our daily lood, was as once recognised as a national disaster, and research en of scientific men were directed to its study ea of scientific men were directed to its study.—
Up the present time—no satisfactory theory has been promulgated. In giving publicity to that which we are now about to notice, we shall confine ourselves mostly to what has been done by actual experiment, and to the legitimate conclusions which inductive reasoning from these experiments affords. Our personal knowledge is contined to the following facts:

On the morning of the 25th of June, Mr. Alexander Henderson of this city, left at our office a glass jar, containing a sound and healthy exander Headerson of this city, left at our ob-fice a glass jar, containing a sound and healthy poratoe plant, covered up by a perforated paper so as to efford air. He had placed it there at 7 A. M., and with it were confined some aix or eight insects, which Mr. H. believes to be the source of the pointo rot. The insect itself we cannot describe scientifically. It is about hair the size of the common house-fig, of a brownish color, has six legs, two pair of light diaphanous wings, two antennie, and a long proposed. Mr. H. thinks it is the Phytocorls, but is not positive as to that.

II. thurs it is too a nytooting.

At the end of twenty four hours the plant was evidently diseased. The insect was actively engaged upon its various portions, which became brown and mouldy in the ical, while the stalks in the course of two or three days, suffered a putre the course of two or three days, suffered a putrescent change, until on the 28th, some of them fell over by their own weight, the stalk being swollen and softened, in some places quite to a jetly of a sickly green color. This process, Mr. Henderson inform us, takes place uniformly, but most rapidly when the plant is freely watered and exposed to the sun and air, as the specimon exposed was not. To all external appearances, the disease was identical with the ordinary potator of as it attacks the vincs. Some places of early (this year's) pocatoes, placed in the jar were also plainly attacked by the rot during the four days of experience.

Mr. Henderson states that he has been engaged in this research since 1845; that in 1849 he discovered the bug on the vine, but thought it was confined to them. During the last year he has found it on the tubers, and watched its effects upon them. It appears on the vines in from two and a half to torce months after planting, according to soil and manure, a right manicg, according to soil and manure, a richly man-ured soil producing the perfect insect sooner. The natural history of the insect begins with the development of the egg. This is invisible to the naked eye, but can be seen with the aid of a lene, aggluinated to the skin of the potato. It is of an oblong form and is planted with the seed potato. The egg may be harched in a warm, moist place. The cutire period of development is not settled. Mr. H. exposed a plant to the insect, under troper precautions, and from the time of exposure to the time the young lipser; of the next generation obtained his wires. insect of the next generation obtained his wings, was three months. The process of reproduction has been ingeniously watched by Mr. Henderson. The egg planted with the seed potate is batch-ed, and the young insect stays in the ground un of he gets wings. In the meantime he is en th he gets wings. In the meantime he is engaged in stinging the tubers, each perforation potenting the root and begetting the rot.— While yet in the ground, and as easily as the tenth day of existence, the young meets collecting, and from the great rapidity with which they propagate, Mr. H. argues that the egg is deposited before the first emergence from the ground, although in case of cold, wet weather, the insect cometimes leaves the vines and returns to the tuber. Only a few days are required to the destruction of the entire vine. The inect is remarkably industrious, but the destruction of the vines does not effect the tuber ex tion of the vises does not effect the tuber ex-cept to stop its growth.

Mr. Henderson finds a ready explanation for the great healthuiness of the potato in sandy soil. He finds that the grains of a and greatly amony and cripple the insect, and as the light soil is heaved up by the growth of the root, the sand imparts or falls down, preventing the ac-cess of the fly. In a still coil the insect readily leaves the ground through the cracks opened by the growth of the tuber, and having stung it, comes to the surface and attacks the vinc, espe-cially after heavy showers. During the past win-ter Mr. Henderson has had thousands of the young insects hatched under glass, and to try their power of mischief, has experimented with bugs only a quarter grown. The plants exposed d for the destruction of the entire vine. The in These statements we regard as important. So muce is evident. Mr. Henderson, by means of this lusest, produced the potato rot at will.—When a healthy plant is shown us, the insect applied and the set follows in four directions. applied, and the rot follows in four days with applied, and the rot follows in four days with unerring certainty, there is good reas n to suppose that the problem has been solved.

As to cure, Mr. Henderson thinks there is no actious difficulty. If we put a exp to the planting of an egg with the seed pototo, we stop the propagation of the insect. The egg being invisible, any means applied should be thorough, and reach the whole surface of the root. Mr. Hunderson in the surface of the root. derson states that by sprickling quickline over the potato as it is cut for planting, the moisture will dissolve the lime and bathe the tabers in a caustic alkali, which will destroy the egg. At this time of the year the ravages of the insect may be prevented by packing the earth around the tuber firmly with the foot, which will smor-ther the usect. We may add that it is proba-bly the same insect which has recently attacked Since writing the above, we have found one of the insects in our jar, which had descried the new rotten vines, at work underground upon a ound young potato. NEW PATERIE.-Patents were issued to the New PATEMES.—Patents were issued to the following Western inventors during the week ending July 6th, each bearing that date:

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

COMMERCIAL & FINANCIAL WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL, }
Saturday Evening, July 17, 1858. }
The week just closing has been rather a stirring one in tannoisi and commercial matters, and the amount of bit-tiness done is much larger than we expected it could be a month ago; quite a deliness in general business, is much ally expected at this season of the year, but instead of that's being the case with us, the past week's business h tircles, and indeed that which has absorbed all others sterest, is, the prospects of the opening harvest. Th thin the past few days, points to this conclusion.

of yesterday, which is situated to a growing region, contains the following:
"Notwithstanding great complaints are made about the destruction of crops by rust and from other causes, we are bound to believe that the crops will be as good as the average of years past. Rust has done serious damage I some localities, no doubt, but not in all, at least such as the section of the country.

the Janesville Odesite, which seme days ago leared that the crops in Rock county had suffered greatly, now thinks after being more particularly informed, that the damaged wheat is only in isolated is califies, and that the yield of old Rock will be, at the lowest calculation, an av-

In some portions of the State the harvest of winter wheat has already commenced, and the crop promises well as a general thing. Thus the Jeffersonian of the abin, says:

'Many of our farmers are engaged in harvesting their winter sheat, some of which is badly lojured by rust, while other localities have cottrely encaped its rawages.
Farmer's in this neighborhood still adhers to the opinion that grains of all kinds will be abundant, notwithstanding the contrary opinious of some who are disposed to think otherwise. The same is true with regard to the winter wheat :

has the following:

"Farmers are now beginning to cut their winter wheat, and so far as we have heard, we are gind to state, the fears of rust which prevailed a week since, here not been real sed, the cool weather for a few days hast, having checked its spreading to the straw."

From the Mineral Pt. Triburse, of the 15th we take the following relating to the crops in the mining district, an ant agricultural region: important agricultural region:

From all parts of the mining district we hear that the prospect of an abundant harvest is quite flattering. Corn is coming forward rapidly. Wheat is generally got though fear are entertained that in some localities the continued rains will prove an injury. Oats and potatoe promise well. With a favorable reason from this time for ward an abundant harvest may be relied upon.

The Budger State, published at Portage, Columbia contracts and approximately approx sys that the cool and dry weather for a week past, ha pays that the cool and dry weather for a week past, has been a mercy and blessing to farmers in that section of the State, and it has strong hopes that they will be rewarded by something near an average crop. Corn, it says, is looking much better than could have been expected, and promises well—oats also.

The Wisconsin Pinery, of Portage Co., says:

Our exchanges bring us accounts of injury of the wheat erop from rust. We have nothing of it in this neighbor-hood; it appears to be filling well; all our crops are very promising. Bye is ready for the cradle. We append our usual market report and money arti-

lune, 10,820 bus wheat, 8,490 bus cate, 795 bus corn, 20 bu potatues, 1,065 be hides, 1,060 be wool, 7,550 be sundries
